Cost £35 per person, full day

Minimum 4 people, maximum 8

A scenic tour of the best in Breadalbane's vibrant food and drink scene. From your accommodation you'll be driven to Dalchonzie Fruit Farm for a jam making workshop with David Burberry. David makes jam for Gleneagles Hotel among others. There will be an opportunity to browse in the Fruit Farm shop before moving on to Crieff for lunch

Lunch (main course and coffee included) is at Crieff's relaxed and friendly Delivino Wine Cafe. There will be time to look into the Crieff's Gordon and Durward Scottish Sweetie shop (no. 1 in Scotland) and Harrison's Fine Wines. Also worth the visit is JL Gill, Whisky and Grocers shop.

In the afternoon we move to a small wooded glen just outside Crieff to visit Scotland's Oldest Distillery. Glenturret is one of the fine single malt whiskies that go into the Famous Grouse. On the special 'tasting tour' you'll get hands-on experience (and nose and tastebuds) of producing this well loved Scottish spirit. With a warm glow we go on through some of Scotland's most spectacular scenery - the Sma Glen - a narrow cleft through the mountains, where the legendary Ossian is reputed to be buried.

Arriving at The House of Menzies, you will receive a discount in their gift shop and enjoy fresh ground coffee or tea with your shortbread. As dusk falls you'll return on the road between the mighty Ben Lawers range and Loch Tay to your cosy accommodation.

Included: Transport, self-guiding info sheet, jam making workshop, lunch (main course and coffee), tasting tour at the Famous Grouse Experience (Glenturret Distillery), exclusive special offers at recommended food producers and artisans, afternoon tea or coffee.
